Family and Carer Mental Health Program

Uniting

Do you care for someone who is living with mental health challenges?

We provide education and training, one-to-one support, and support groups to help ensure you have the tools you need in your caring role.

The Family and Carer Mental Health Program partners with 4 Local Health Districts to support people living in Northern and Western Sydney, the Blue Mountains, and the Central Coast.

Caring for your wellbeing so you can thrive

Caring for a family member or friend can be very rewarding, but it also has its challenges. If your loved one is living with emotional distress, trauma or a mental health condition, the experience is not only felt by them, but also those closest to them.

As part of our Family and Carer Mental Health Program, you can access 3 types of support.

1. Information and training

Our carer information and training sessions aim to build resilience and improve each carer's ability to cope with the challenges of caring for someone with a mental health condition.

Sessions can be attended online, in small groups in the community, or one-to-one with a member of our team.

2. Individual support

We'll meet with you in person or online to provide emotional support, share information and connect you to services that meet your unique needs.

3. Support groups

Join one of our local support groups for people who are caring for someone living with a mental health condition or experiencing symptoms of mental ill health. We organise guest speakers and it's a chance to meet and connect with other carers who understand and share some of your experiences.
